Hi Sarah,

The quote from Danny at Fast Signs here in Sherman Oaks on Ventura Blvd. & Beverly Glen is:
100 signs 18" x 24", printed both sides is $12 each
200 signs, 18" x 24" printed both sides is $10 each the metal stakes are $1 each extra

The material is called Coroplast. <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coroplast>

I have 2 more quotes coming from sign shops in the general neighborhood, but have not received them yet.

Interestingly, I looked at an on-line vendor's costs - Imprint.com can produce these same signs for us at a much lower cost:

200 signs using the same 18" x 24" size and Coroplast material, printed both sides was quoted at $2.81 per sign, plus the $1 for the metal stake (10" wide x 30" tall). Shipping would be $40. This means $840, before tax, plus the web site says they can give another 15% discount right now, which brings the cost down to $726

Imprint also quoted 100 signs at $445, including shipping, with a $40 discount = $404.50

The Imprint.com pricing appears to be far less costly than the $2200 it would cost to get 200 signs, or $1300 for 100 signs from Fast Signs in Sherman Oaks. As much as I wanted to keep the revenues local, and support one of Sherman Oaks merchants, the cost differential is too substantial to consider using a local merchant, unless the other quotes come in somewhere near Imprint.com's quote.

These signs are also available in other sizes if we want to consider reducing the cost - 12" x 18", 12" x 12", 6" x 18", 6" x 24", 9" x 12", 9" x 24", 18" x 12"

Regards,

- Harold Shapiro
